ENEMIES HARD TO FIGHT.

BOERS AND FILIPINOS ON ALL FOOTS IN THIS.

The English Find it Hard to Cover so Much Territory and Catch Soldiers Who Fight Irregularly Without Uniforms.

London, Jan. 8.—Lord Raglan, Secretary of State for War, who was interviewed today by a representative of the Associated Press on the South African situation, said: "The condition of affairs in South Africa absolutely forbids prophecy. You cannot call it war, yet in some respects it is worse than war. It is well-nigh impossible to fight in the ordinary way against a people who have no uniforms. For a week, perhaps for a month, a Boer goes out to fight. Then he says, 'I'm sick of this,' buries his gun and becomes in all respects a peaceable farmer. Yet the next week the spirit moves him, and he digs up his gun and rejoins his commando. It is terribly hard to deal equitably with such a character.

"The secret of the whole thing consists in horses. We have enough men there, but not enough mounted men. This is not due to the paucity of supply sent out, but to the difficulty of acclimatizing the animals. The trouble is that fresh horses have been sent up the country before they were hardened to the climate.

"The army is getting 8,000 horses a month now and we are going to begin to commandeer horses throughout the disturbed regions. One would think the Boers would prefer to get a fair price for their animals from the British to giving them up to General De Wet for nothing. Personally I believe we should have begun this plan before now. What with depriving the Boers of mounts and transforming all our men into mobile bodies, capable of pursuing detached commandos, we trust the commanders may be run to earth, although it is arduous work.

"I have just been talking to a man who has come from the Philippines and he tells me that the Americans have made practically little headway during two years' work there, so far as the suppression of detached bodies of the enemy is concerned. We face the same difficulties in South Africa, but over a vastly superior area, the extent of which cannot even be conceived by those who have not been there.

"We are not nervous over the possibilities of a serious rebellion in Cape Colony. Had arms been more plentiful there, the situation might have been more dangerous. But the scarcity of rifles and ammunition in the Colony robs the disturbance of the gravity it might otherwise have had.

"You cannot expect to end such a war as this in a day. The disturbances in Burmah continued for more than four years. I believe that if the Boers now in the field knew the true state of affairs and were aware that the continuance of opposition could not possibly improve the terms offered them, a majority would have sense enough to cease fighting. Meanwhile you may be assured of the fact that the War Office is not guilty of inertia. Lord Kitchener is getting all he asked for; Lord Roberts has a perfectly free hand. What can be done is being done."

Week of Prayer Services.

The union services at Centenary church last night was a very interesting and helpful one. The attendance was good and the talk by Rev. T. M. Johnson on "The Church" was pointed, practical and earnest. It would have been helpful to all of the members of the churches uniting in these services to have heard the talk and to have united in the prayers last evening.

This evening the service will be held at the Friends' church. Leader, Rev. H. K. Boyer. Subject: "Christian Character." We are asked to pray this evening "for such Christian character and life as shall be pleasant in the home, honored in business relations, welcomed in the neighborhood, helpful in the church—personal religion being thus manifested in its rightful attractiveness."

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 the service will be held at Grace church. Subject: "Religion in the Home." Leader, Mrs. Mary E. Cartland.

STATE GAINS REPRESENTATIVE.

BURLEIGH BILL PASSES AND INCREASES HOUSE TO 386.

Under It Several States Get Additional Representatives and None Lose Any.

Washington, Jan. 8.—By a vote of 165 to 102 the House today accepted the reapportionment plan proposed by the Burleigh bill, which increases the membership of the House during the next decade from 357, the present membership and the membership proposed by the committee or Hopkins bill, to 386. The result was largely brought about by the influence of certain Senators from several of the larger Northern States, who threw the weight of their influence in the scale in favor of the larger membership. When it became apparent that these factors were at work against his bill, Mr. Hopkins attempted to compromise by giving an additional Representative each to North Dakota, Colorado and Florida, but his adversaries refused to compromise after complete victory was assured. The Crumpacker proposition to re-commit the bill for the purpose of ascertaining what States abridged the right to vote to an extent which would entail reduced representation was defeated, 139 to 110. There was no roll-call on the vote but a number of Republicans voted with the Democrats.

Under the bill as passed today no State loses a Representative and the following make gains: Illinois, New York and Texas three each; Minnesota, New Jersey and Pennsylvania two each; Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, North Dakota, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin one each. The bill provides that whenever a new State is admitted the Representative assigned to it shall be in addition to the number provided in the bill.

A SUCCESSFUL ENTERPRISE

The Greensboro Table Company One of Those Small Manufacturing Plants That do Good Business.

One of those small manufacturing enterprises that go so far towards making a town prosperous, and one which manufactures an article that is used in every household, is the Greensboro Table Company. This company is composed of Messrs. W. W. and C. S. Mendenhall, who first began their business in a small way not quite a year ago, and doing all the work themselves. By careful attention to business they have built up a good trade and now employ eight men besides themselves.

At first they made only kitchen tables, and while they continue to make them for the wholesale trade, they are now engaged in manufacturing mantles, book cases and cabinets. That the quality of their work is becoming known abroad is evidenced in the fact that they are now shipping to points as distant as West Virginia, Texas, and Florida.

Mr. Mendenhall tells us that he intends in the near future to add several new machines and make other improvements that will enable him to turn out work in the most up-to-date styles.

Greensboro welcomes all such enterprises as this, and they will go far towards making our town the prosperous city she bids fair to become in the near future.

President Hays in Control.

San Francisco, Jan. 9.—President Hays has assumed control of the Southern Pacific Railroad, and came to this city on a tour of inspection of the property. Daylight runs only were made on the trip from New Orleans in order that President Hays might inspect the entire system under the direction of Chief Engineer Hood.

The late President Huntington's suite of offices has been remodeled and refurnished, and will be President Hays' permanent quarters here.

Three Weeks Term.

Major Chas. M. Stedman has received a letter from Judge Timberlake saying that he would be on hand to begin court on Monday, and would be prepared to stay as long as was necessary to complete the docket. There will be at least three weeks of the term,

THE LEGISLATURE.

CLARK SWORE THE MEMBERS IN

FIRST RESOLUTION EXPENDS $1,000 TO VENTILATE HALL.

Moore Got 69 Votes for Speaker and Ebbs 16—One Notice of Contest—Reynolds Will Hold on Till Next Tuesday.

Special to The Telegram.

Raleigh, Jan. 9.—The Legislature met today. Lieutenant Governor Reynolds presided over the Senate. He has decided not to resign but to hold over till next Tuesday.

All the Senators are present today except James who is sick and will not arrive before Monday. When Stringfield was sworn in a notice of contest for his seat was given.

A committee was appointed to notify the Governor that the body was ready to receive his message. It will be sent in tomorrow. Resolutions were adopted providing for a canvass of the vote and the inauguration at noon next Tuesday.

The first resolution to be passed tomorrow provides for the expenditure of $1,000 for the ventilation of the legislative halls.

Ex-Speaker Connor presided at the session of the House, being called to preside. Judge Walter Clark swore the members in. Walter E. Moore got 96 votes for speaker, Ebbs, Republican, got sixteen.

The caucus of Democratic Senators last night selected the following officers of that body:

Speaker Pro tem—Senator Henry A. London.

Principal Clerk—A. J. Maxwell.

Reading Clerk—Walter L. Cohoon.

Engrossing Clerk—Frank A. Clinard.

Sergeant-at-Arms—J. B. Smith.

Assistant Doorkeeper—Geo. Bigerstaff.

There were several contests, Mr. Maxwell being the only candidate who had no opposition. He was elected unanimously.

The vote for reading clerk stood: Cohoon, 52; Murphy, 15.

For engrossing clerk the vote was: Clinard, 24; Shell, 12.

Vote for sergeant-at-arms: Smith, 22; Gilliam, 15; Murphy 1.

Assistant doorkeeper: First ballot—Biggerstaff, 18; S. M. Terry, 9; M. W. White, 6; W. D. Smith, 2; H. F. Holden, 1. Second ballot—Biggerstaff, 20; Terry, 7; White, 7; Smith, 1.

The caucus of Democratic members of the House of Representatives met at 8:30 p. m. Hon. F. D. Winston called the body to order, and ex-Speaker H. G. Connor of Wilson, was called to the chair as the temporary presiding officer. On motion of ex-Judge W. R. Allen of Wayne, Judge Connor was elected as the permanent presiding officer of the caucus. Mr. Lee R. Wright of Rowan, was elected secretary; Mr. Clyde R. Hoey, the young representative from Cleveland, assistant secretary.

Hon. Walter E. Moore of Jackson, was nominated as the Democratic candidate for Speaker of the House by unanimous vote. The honor was most worthily bestowed. Mr. Moore is one of the leading young Democrats of the State. Frank D. Winston placed Mr. Moore in nomination in an eloquent speech. The nomination was seconded by Locke Craig of Buncombe.

Brevard Nixon of Charlotte, was unanimously nominated for chief clerk.

Capt. Frank Benson of Anson, received the nomination for doorkeeper by unanimous vote.

G. B. Howell of Montgomery, was nominated for assistant doorkeeper.

W. W. Wilson of Wake, was named for reading clerk. He received 76 votes to 16 cast for P. C. Emiss of Wake.

J. H. Fonville of Duplin, was nominated for engrossing clerk.

Representative E. S. Willard, of New Hanover, made a motion that a committee of five be appointed to devise some new method for conducting the work of the offices of enrolling and engrossing clerks. The motion was defeated.

The vote in the caucus was 97. There are 101 Democratic members of the House. All of the members of the House are in the city, with three or four exceptions.

Tonight there will be a joint Democratic caucus of both houses. E. B. Morrell will then be nominated as

THE MILL MEN TO MEET HERE

INFORMAL MEETING CALLED FOR THE 16TH INSTANT.

No Object for the Meeting Stated but Believed to be for the Purpose of Discussing the Labor Question.

There is to be a meeting of the cotton mill men of the State held in Greensboro on January 16th. The meeting is wholly informal, and in the call sent out to the manufacturers there was nothing whatever said regarding the object of the meeting. There is of course always a general impression as to the object of such meetings, even when there is no formal statement.

Such an idea regarding this meeting is that it is for the manufacturers to talk over the labor situation. The general demand for some labor legislation by this Legislature is quite strong, and there is a fair degree of certainty that some act will be passed. The mill owners are naturally interested in this, and expect no doubt to go over the subject fully, and if necessary take a definite stand.

The gathering is called by Mr. J. M. Odell, of Concord, and no doubt will be largely attended. The call does not state at what place in the city the meeting will be held.

Mr. Odell is the city today but refused to say anything regarding the meeting.

To Be a Pretty Front.

Enough of the front of the new building of the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company has gone up so far as to show that it will probably be the pretties front in the city. It is made of buff brick, and the handsome, large granite buttresses at the entrance will give an appearance of grandeur and beauty unsurpassed.

Mr. Crutchfield Robbed.

Thieves broke into the house of Mr. A. S. Crutchfield, who lives on West Lee street Monday night and carried off a small quantity of provisions which they found in the pantry. They also ransacked the drawers of a bureau in the room in which Mr. Crutchfield was sleeping, but without arousing him. Mr. Crutchfield thinks he must have been drugged, as ordinarily he is a light sleeper.

The Sermon Last Night.

The interest in the meetings at the First Presbyterian church continues unabated, and seems on the increase. A large number remained for prayer last night. The sermon was an exceedingly strong, yet plain and simple presentation of the gospel invitation, and it was heard with almost breathless interest. We learn that the men's noon-day meeting for prayer and the prayer meetings in the various parts of town are largely attended.

Gone After an Insane Man.

Mr. John Money, a white man living ten miles south of the city was found to be crazy this morning. He wanted to kill everybody in sight, including his wife. Six men of the community succeeded in tying him, however, and sent to this city for help. Deputy Sheriff John Weatherly went down and will return some time this evening bringing Mr. Money here for the protection of himself and neighborhood.

THE INDIAN PEACH.

The Variety of Anti-Bellum Days Still in North Carolina.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

I see in the issue of January 1st, a clipping from the Raleigh Post asking after the good fruit of other days, naming the Indian peach. I have two seedlings in my orchard of that variety, grown from a tree that was set in my grandmother's orchard before the war. I have both seedling and budded fruit in my orchard but I prize the "Injun Cling," as my grandmother called it, above all others. It is fine for table use, preserving, etc.

U. S. PROPOSES TO WITHDRAW

ARMED FORCES SHOULD NOT STAY IN CHINA AFTER TERMS ARE SIGNED

Ambassador White Has Had an Interview With the German Foreign Office but it Does Not Endorse the American Position. By Wire to The Telegram.

Berlin, Jan. 9.—It is understood that the long interview which United States Ambassador White had yesterday with the Secretary of Foreign Affairs was in respect to the proposal of the United States that the powers withdraw their troops from China after the Chinese government has accepted all the articles of the joint note, except those relating to indemnity and commercial treaties, these being left for settlement at a conference of the powers in Washington or elsewhere. No final decision has been announced, but the feeling in diplomatic circles here seems to be opposed to the United States' proposition.

Escaped From Sing Sing.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Jan. 9.—Otto Schafer, who escaped from Sing Sing prison this morning, is thirty-five years old, and was serving a sentence of eight years for burglary in the second degree. It is supposed that he escaped by climbing through a hole in the roof of the bakery, which was burned a year ago. Guards are scouring the country for the fugitive.

Trains Go Into Each Other Crosswise.

Perth Amboy, Jan. 9.—Seven persons were seriously injured in a collision here this morning, when a Lehigh Valley engine crashed into a Long Branch express on the New Jersey Central. Signals were misunderstood by the engineers. Both started to make the crossing at the same time. The cars of the Long Branch express were completely wrecked and piled up all over the tracks.

Electricity is to be used on a large ranch in Lower California this winter for a variety of purposes. A unique feature, it is said, will be the placing of several searchlights on the mountains overlooking the ranch, thus replacing the old system of night riding to prevent thieving. The tender of each light will be provided with a signal code, by which he can flash information to the other light tenders and anyone who may be out among the cattle. Each light tender will also have at hand a telephone connected with the main ranch. All parts of the ranch will be provided with telephone stations, and an electric light plant will be installed at the ranch, all the buildings being illuminated with electricity.—Little Chronicle.

Nearly 16,000 tons of potato starch are turned out annually in this country. The potatoes used for starch are the small and injured ones of the crop. Sixty bushels of them yield a barrel of starch.

A newly invented match machine automatically cuts the splints from a wooden block, dips them, dries the tips, and then ejects the completed matches. If a splint proves defective it is promptly dropped.

The interchangeable system appears to have been invented by Eli Whitney, who in 1798 had a contract from the United States government to supply 10,000 muskets. He was obliged to employ the system by the scarcity of skilled labor.

A wire fence weaving machine has been devised which enables a strong and serviceable fence to be constructed in position with rapidity and economy. The machine carries a number of spools of wire, and the weaving of the fence progresses rapidly.

The visibility of a substance to the eye is no criterion of its visibility to the X rays. The rays cannot see through glass, which is transparent to the eye, whereas aluminum, which is opaque to the eye, is transparent to the rays. The rays can see a splinter of glass in the hand, but not a splinter of wood.

The coal tar derivative fuchsine is generally supposed to owe its name to the fuchsia, as its tint certainly resembles the color of that flower; but this is not the case. The inventor of fuchsine, whose death was lately recorded, M. Francisque Renard, and his brother desired to identify their name with the new product; but, not liking to adopt the appellation of renardine, they translated their family name Renard (fox) into the German Fuchs, and thus arrived at

EDWARD MARKHAM ANSWERSCOMBINATIONS OF WEALTH AND COMBINATIONS OF LABOR.

He Gives His Views Regarding Labor, and the Opportunities the New Century Should Bring the Workingman—What He Thinks the Church Needs.

The following questions were sent to Mr. Edwin Markham, at his home in Brooklyn, who wrote the answers specially for the Christian Herald. The lines quoted in two or three of the questions are from Mr. Markham's collected poems, published by Doubleday, Page & Co., entitled "The Man with the Hoe and Other Poems."

1. On what question should all branches of labor unite for the good of the country?

On the reduction of hours of labor per day; on compulsory arbitration; on the study, from humane motives, of the co-operative ideal in industry.

2. In what way, or toward what end, should labor utilize its gigantic strength?

They should resolutely will to come into harmony and unity of aim and aspiration; they should make appeal through the ballot box for an enlargement of the rights of man. They should strive to organize the world so as to keep open the gates of opportunity.

3. What opportunities should the new century bring to the workingman?

Security in his work, and sufficient leisure from his work to give him time to cultivate his moral and aesthetic nature.

4. What effect, in your opinion, will great combinations of wealth have upon the workingman of the future?—will concentration of wealth, trusts, etc., prove a benefit or a drawback to the workingman's progress?

Great combinations of wealth will tend to make great counter combinations among the working classes. Trusts will be a decided drawback to the workingman's progress unless some means shall be found to make them serve the good of the whole people, as now they serve the good of a very few.

5. To what degree should the workingman be made a partner of wealth?

If I understand your question, he should be made a full partner. In other words, he should receive as nearly as possible the full value of the things he makes or does.

6. In one of your poems, "The Man Under the Stone," you compare a workingman to a man going through life pushing a great stone always up hill. What is the workingman's real burden—what is the real stone in his up-hill life?

That great stone is his unequal struggle for bread today, still further weighted with the fear of penury tomorrow and the dread of a destitute old age. All this, of course, springs out of the narrow margin of scant wage and precarious employment.

7. What kind of help, aside from higher wages, does the laboring man need?

He needs the contented mind that comes from security in his work and joy in his work. This necessarily carries the idea that he must have more leisure and more culture.

8. What would most help to lighten the toiler's burden?

Co-operation in the place of competition, in the industrial world. Co-operation is the logic of Christianity.

16. Do churches and church workers neglect the working people? Do they pay enough attention to factory centres and great industrial towns?

No, churches do not give enough attention to these matters. Indeed, the burning question in each church today should be the social problem. The saving of men's souls is very closely connected with the amelioration of their social and industrial conditions. The Church needs a new baptism of Holy Spirit which is the same as saying social spirit.

GOOD ADVICE.

The most miserable things in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual costiveness, palpitation of the heart, heart-burn, water-brash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

MR. BRYAN ON REORGANIZATION

IT IS INTERNAL AND CAN'T BE OTHERWISE APPLIED.

The Colonel is a Private Citizen Now and Has Many Years to Contend for the Principles for Which Jefferson Talked and Jackson Fought.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Wm. J. Bryan was the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Chicago Bryan League held tonight at the Sherman House. There were several hundred present. Mayor Harrison was toast-master. Mayor Rose, of Milwaukee, spoke on "Party Loyalty," and Samuel Alschuler, Democratic candidate for Governor of Illinois, in the last campaign, on "The State We Live In." Mr. Bryan began speaking after midnight. He said: "I take this opportunity to express the hope that this club and others which have borne my name will substitute for my name the name of some Democratic saint, or a name descriptive of principles rather than men. I am now a private citizen with excellent prospects of remaining such."

"The Democratic party was never in better fighting condition than it is today, and I rejoice that I have many years in which to participate in the struggle between human rights and the usurpations of greed. Our party stands for well-defined and positive policies and is prepared to wage an aggressive warfare against the plutocratic tendencies, the evils against which Jefferson contended a century ago, and against which Jackson fought thirty years later. Reorganization is an internal remedy and it cannot be applied externally. Those who have lost their party standing because of their desertion of the party candidates and unfaithfulness to Democratic doctrines, as defined by legitimate authority, must reunite with the party before any attention will be paid to their pretensions of interest. Those within the party lines have a right to a voice in the making of the platform and change in the organization of machinery but any desired changes shall be openly proposed and fairly presented. Party organizations are framed for party government and derive their just powers from the consent of the governed."

"The defeat the party recently suffered ought not to discourage any one who believes in the principles set forth in the Kansas City platform, for if right when written and endorsed by nearly six millions and a half of voters, they are right still. The Democratic party has been defeated before but defeat has neither destroyed its hope nor its tenets. The defeat of 1895 came at the close of an administration entirely satisfactory to those most anxious to reorganize the party, and defeat in 1894, which occurred under a similar administration, was more disastrous than any since."

"We can face the future with the determination to make the party a faithful exponent of the views of those who believe in equal rights to all and special privileges to none. Whether the question of money will figure prominently in future campaigns will depend upon circumstances. What is desired is a sufficient quantity of money to keep pace with the demand for business. Monopolies will ultimately become so hurtful that the Republicans will no longer be able to defend them, as a colonial policy must finally be repudiated by the American people."

The Crude Rubber Combine.

Boston, Jan. 9.—The International Crude Rubber Company will do a very heavy business, as they will buy and sell five-eights of the crude rubber crop of the world, say fifty-two million pounds per year, or practically the whole Para crude rubber output. It is expected that at the lowest possible estimate the company will make a profit of five cents per pound, which will give it net earnings of $2,600,000, or $2,000,000 more than is needed for the payment of six per cent. dividend on the preferred stock.

Kansas Board of Agriculture.

Topeka, Kansas, Jan. 9.—The Kansas State Board of Agriculture began a three days' session in the capitol building today, opening late this afternoon. Address of welcome and response will be made tonight and two papers will be read on "Beef and Beef Breeds" and "Angora Goats." The following days will be devoted to discussions of practical subjects and papers read by experts in their respective lines.

Commission Men's League.

Columbus, O., Jan. 9.—The National League of Commission Merchants met here today. It is composed of 300 firms located in the twenty-five largest cities of the country. Most of the delegates are accompanied by their wives. The sessions will continue three days.

Church Societies' Athletics.

New York, Jan. 9.—The athletic societies of St. Bartholomew's Church, St. George's Church and Grace Church will have a series of games tonight at St. Bartholomew's gymnasium. There will be five contests, and in each a member of each society will be entered. Prizes will be given the first, second and third competitors, and the society showing the most points will win the team prize.

Snow Hunt.

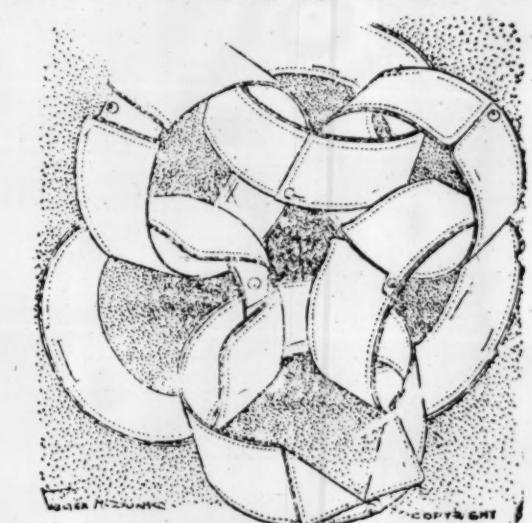

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 9.—The Worcester Fur Company will devote today to its annual snow hunt, which will take place in the Merriam district, between Groton and Upton. Several fine hunters participated in the hunt and foxes will find it a hard road to travel before the day's work is over.

Pepsin in preparations often fail to relieve indigestion because they can digest only albuminous foods. There is one preparation that digests all classes of food, and that is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It cures the worst cases of indigestion and gives instant relief, for it digests what you eat. Howard Gardner.

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"it soon removed the pain in my chest and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1. WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9

OPPORTUNITY.

Says the Wilmington Messenger: The editor of the Windsor Ledger has not forgotten first principles. He stands for the rights of freemen and opposes the Blue Law fad of compelling parents to do as bidden. It says: "A good many newspapers in the state are discussing compulsory education. We wish to be placed in the column of those who oppose forcing people to send their children to school. We believe in giving every white child in North Carolina every opportunity to get an education. We will go no farther than that."

Let a law be passed after the compulsory law that all parents must cause their children's faces to be washed and all must go to Sunday School.

Since the Ledger believes in giving every child an opportunity, will it kindly explain how that opportunity is to be given to the children whose parents refuse to allow them to go to school, unless these parents are forced to let them go; what the Ledger really means is that it believes in putting a school in every neighborhood, and if fifty per cent of the fathers continue to keep their children home in ignorance, let them do so. Pray what benefit is it to a child to have a school within an hour's walk if he is never allowed to go there? And has that child had any more opportunity than it would have had if the Democratic party had not promised it an opportunity, and Mr. Aycock had not made his speeches and the Legislature had not made any appropriation?

If, as the Messenger says, "the Windsor Ledger has not forgotten first principles," we are glad to say that all but about one-third of the States of this Union (that one-third includes all the Southern States), and all the other principal countries of civilization have forgotten them. While our highly esteemed contemporaries continue to hug their fallacious ideas concerning first principles, the legislative procession will move on, we hope, to the framing of a temperate and reasonable compulsory attendance law.

We have received a number of calendars from northern patent medicine concerns with the request that we give from three inches to a column to a notice of these productions. We do not feel like giving two to five dollars worth of space to a five-cent calendar, and this paragraph will serve as sufficient notice for the whole lay-out. When we have anything to give away, we will give it to the home merchants.—Raleigh Times.

The Telegram has not received a single foreign calendar. But it has received some of the prettiest ones it has ever seen from its home people. It has made mention of every one of them, with pleasure. Pretty calendars are a fad with the Greensboro advertisers, and it is safe to say that no kind of an advertisement is quite so much appreciated by the public.

A visitor to Winston who modestly withholds his name, consumes a whole column in the Daily Journal, contributing valuable advice to the Winston folks as to how to run their business, pretty well from their kitchen closets to their street car line. A distinguished lawyer of Greensboro is wont to advise his young friends, and older ones for the matter of that, that the first thing a stranger wants to do when he gets to a town is to let the people already there continue to run their own business, at least till he stays long enough to become acclimated, and can then take it off their hands with less friction.

The Courier-Herald of Danville has genuine North Carolina newspaper antipathy for summer months. Says it:

Since our birth, on November 15th, 1899, we grew rapidly until the summer months forced us to take a vacation, and since July 21st no paper has been issued up to this number. * * We will not attempt to run through the summer months, as last year, but will close in May.

After having caught that slack, we feel sure that our contemporary will be able to pull through till May.

The Concord Tribune remarks: The Charlotte Observer says, "We trust that the legislature will, in its wisdom, increase the governor's salary." We agree with the Observer and think the salary of the chief executive of North Carolina should be increased. Not to the point where it would count as an attraction but sufficient for the occupant of the governor's chair to live as becomes the chief officer of a great state.

The Telegram has long advocated this measure. It has also said, and says now, that the salary of the Supreme court judges should be increased along with that of the governor.

ACCEPTED A BRIBE

Detectives Trap and Catch an Army Officer, Who Received $2,000. Mobile, Ala., Dispatch, 7th.

A sensation was caused this morning when Construction Quartermaster Cyril W. King, stationed at Fort Morgan, was arrested here by a secret service agent and charged with having accepted a bribe. King submitted to arrest and followed the officer to the United States marshal's office without a word.

In his preliminary hearing it developed that he is charged with having accepted $2,000 from J. H. Hobson, a Washington, D. C., contractor, to reconsider his rejection of material furnished by the latter to be used in the construction of a new barracks and officers' quarters at Fort Morgan. Hobson, who is in the city, and who was instrumental in the arrest, testified before United States Commissioner Rikaby. He said:

"In June last I received a contract to erect a barracks and officers' quarters at Fort Morgan. Not long after King commenced a general condemnation of material, and I went to Fort Morgan to protect my interests.

I had an interview with him, but we arrived at no definite agreement. In September I again visited the fort and again talked with King regarding the matter. He then informed me that he needed money, and we came to a tacit understanding that, by the payment of $3,000, I would not be put to any further trouble and the material already condemned would be used. I accepted the terms to save myself, as I was losing thousands of dollars as matters stood. I paid him $500 at one time, a like amount at another, and this morning handed him $1,000, which money I had marked and have identified since as that taken from his pocket after the arrest."

Channing to Whiskey.

London, Jan. 9.—The inquests of those who have died from the effects of poisoned beer, which made such havoc at Manchester, are being held today. The delay was occasioned by the desire of the authorities to secure the opinion of experts. Over 1,100 persons were being treated at one time for poisoning. The sale of beer in the saloons has fallen off very seriously, many drinkers changing to whiskey, and some, in response to the appeals of the temperance people, stopping drinking of intoxicants altogether. It is now claimed in behalf of Mrs. Maybrick that her husband was poisoned through beer.

Heavy Iron Consumption.

New York, Jan. 9.—The most active features of iron construction at present are ship-building, bridge construction, railway equipment and kindred lines. Never in the history of the country were the large plants devoted to the above industries so full of contracts. There is improvement also in cast-iron pipe, which for years has been in more or less depression. The year opens with bright prospects in America, but amid gloom in England and Germany, where they feel the competition of American firms.

ROBBED THE GRAVE. A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A BOY KIDNAPPED IN ATLANTA

AN 18-YEAR-OLD STUDENT SAID TO HAVE BEEN STOLEN.

Was Attending the Technological School—Letter Says "We Intended to Steal Him Before Christmas"—Want $5,000 for His Return.

Atlanta, Jan. 8.—Bass Frazier, who, according to a letter received by his father at Union Springs, Ala., was kidnapped in this city while attending the Technological School, was last seen here January 5. Two of his brothers arrived here tonight from Union Springs, Ala., and gave out the following letter as being received from the supposed kidnappers. The letter was mailed in Memphis, Tenn., January 6, and bore a special delivery stamp:

"Dear Sir: As kidnapping is all the rage nowadays, we have stolen your son. We intended to steal him before Christmas, but could never get a chance. We don't know your financial condition, as your son refuses to tell us and we only found $15 on his person. He is a boy way above the average and we need him in our business, so we intend to keep him, but you might send a letter to Jim Glover, general delivery, Kansas City, as we will be in that city by the time this reaches you, stating how much you will give for his return and if the amount meets with my approval I will write you more about it. Do not notify any official authority, as it won't do any good and would ruin your chances of getting him. We will allow him to sign his name to prove to you we are not joking. We have him in a stupefied condition and are caring for him as a sick person and a younger brother."

The boy's signature was attached to the letter, which contained some grammatical errors. Bass Frazier was a member of the first year class. His brothers say their father is unable to pay the ransom. The mother of the boy is prostrated with grief.

LETTER FROM THE KIDNAPPERS.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 8.—From Union Springs, Ala., it is learned that N. H. Frazer, tax collector of Bullock county, has received a letter dated Memphis, from men claiming they had kidnapped Frazer's 18-year-old son Bass, in Atlanta and demanding $5,000 ransom. The letter contained young Frazer's signature as proof of their claim. Frazer was a student in the Technological School at Atlanta and it is learned has not been seen there in several days. The kidnappers asserted they were on their way to Kansas City, whence further negotiations would be conducted.

Castellane's Bric-a-Brac.

Paris, Jan. 9.—The case of Charles Wertheimer, a London bric-a-brac dealer, against the Count and Countess Boniface de Castellane for art objects sold to defendants by plaintiff, came up again today before the First Civil Tribunal of the Seine. The sum involved is 12,946 francs, and this is a test case for larger claims involving over two millions of francs. The Castellane's put in a counter claim, demanding a reduction of the debt, the restitution of articles taken in exchange by Wertheimer, and finally damages to the amount of 309,000 francs, and the valuation of the articles sold by an expert. The court is expected to render its decision today.

Dr. Pierson's Tour.

Chicago, Jan. 9.—Dr. D. K. Pearson, who has enriched so many institutions the past year by municipal donations, will make a tour of all the colleges, churches and other institutions that he has helped, to see how they are getting along. He will certainly meet with a warm reception. His benefactions during the year that closed the nineteenth century were between two and three millions of dollars.

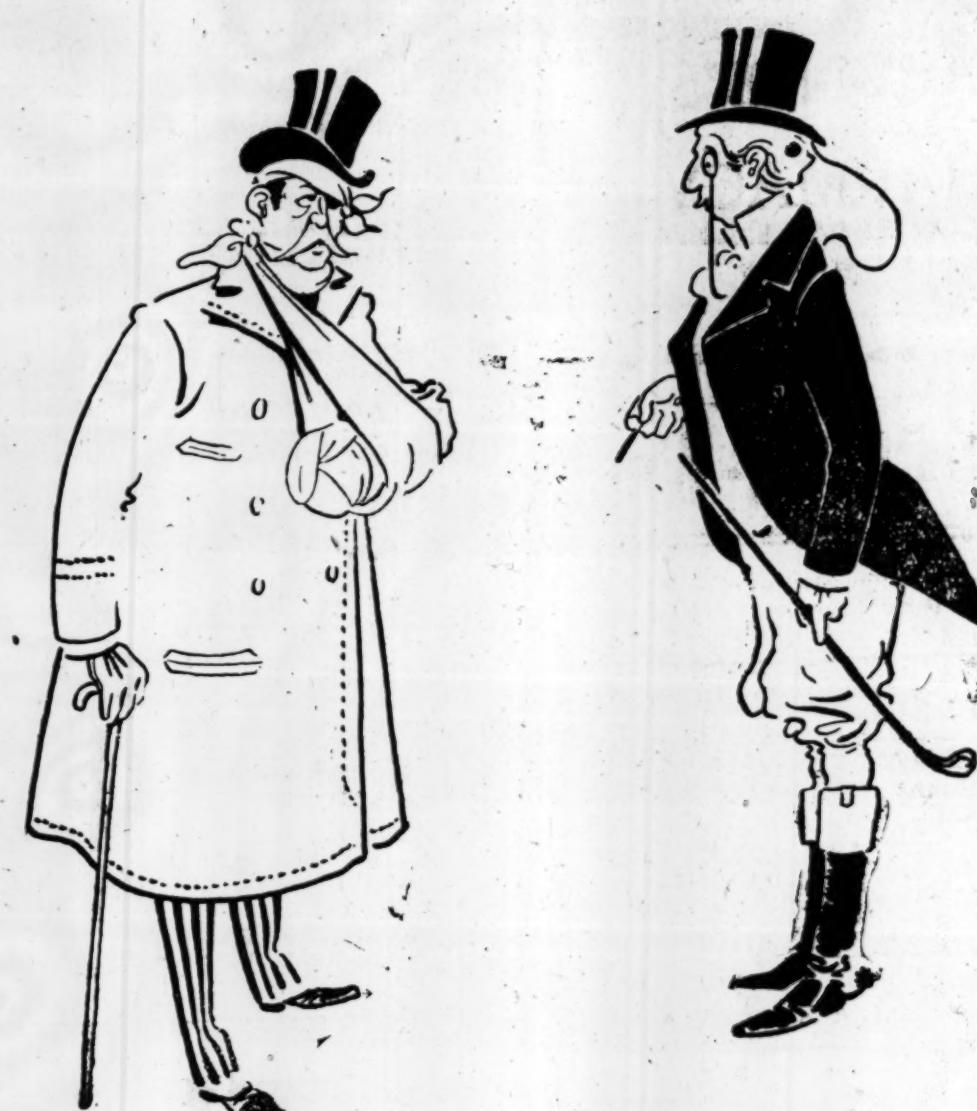

Buying in the Market.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 9.—The practical determination of the Continental and American Tobacco Companies to buy no more of the planters direct but in the open market, greatly stirs the planters, as these companies last year bought twenty million pounds direct from the farmers. They will use their warehouses in the tobacco districts, but they will take only choice crops.

Alvord's Trial.

New York, Jan. 9.—The trial of Cornelius L. Alvord, former note teller of the First National Bank, who is charged with stealing $690,000, began today before the United States Circuit Court. A new panel of the 100 petit jurors was drawn, and from this a jury of twelve men will be selected to try the largest bank defaulter on record in New York city.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1888, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cents. GREENSBORO TELEGRAM, GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 9, 1901.

His One Love Dream

It Lasted Nearly One Day, and Thinks He Escaped Very Easily.

"But it's all your fault!"
"All my fault?"

"To be sure—why didn't you get married?"

"Because I was a fool!"

"And why don't you get married now?" pursued the relentless little sprite.

"Would you," questioned Mr. Peterson, gravely, "if you were I?"

"Of course I would. Get married and board with us. Mamma will give you this room, and—"

"My dear!" checked Mrs. Cope, gently.

"My dear madam!" cried Mr. Peterson, still with his eyes fixed on Jeanie's lovely face, "I assure you I think it is an excellent idea!"

And all through their journey from cellar to French roof, while Mrs. Cope considered the relative advantages of this room and that, Mr. Peterson kept revolving this same "excellent idea" in his mind.

"Miss Jeannie," he said, somewhat awkwardly, as they turned downstairs, "supposing I should — ahem — adopt your suggestion, what would be your fancy in furnishing a suite of rooms?"

"Let me see," said Jeannie, looking composedly around, "I'd paper the room in white and gold and I'd fill the windows with canary birds and plants and I'd have a blue carpet and blue silk chairs and a blue sofa."

"You like blue?"

"Very much; it is my favorite color."

"Blue it shall be, then!" cried the delighted bachelor. "Mrs. Cope, if you should decide to take the house you will please reserve these rooms for me, and—and Mrs. Peterson, ma'am, at $50 a week."

"I shall be very happy, sir!" said Mrs. Cope. "Jennie, stop laughing; you behave exactly like a little school girl. You will give me till to-morrow morning, sir, to decide?"

"Certainly, ma'am—certainly."

As he turned, after seeing them off, already in imagination leading Jeannie to the flower-decked altar, a slender, good-looking young man of some four or five and twenty stood beside him.

"Good morning, uncle," he cried, breathlessly.

"Good morning, Joe," returned Mr. Peterson, nodding to Mr. Joseph Franklin, his only nephew. "What brings you here in such a hurry?"

"Is your house let yet, uncle?"

"Yes—no—I don't exactly know," responded Mr. Peterson, a little awkwardly, "What does it matter to you whether it is or not, hey, you young scapgegrace?"

"Much, sir. To tell you the truth, I was thinking of renting it myself."

"You!"

"Yes, I. I'm going to be married next week, uncle."

"A very sensible plan," said Mr. Peterson, beamingly.

"I'm glad you approve of it, sir, and, in case my wife and I conclude to take few boarders, can I have your promise to consider you as one?"

"That is, in case you take the house?"

"Yes."

"I can't promise; in fact, I think I've already engaged myself," said Mr. Peterson, importantly. "To speak frankly, Joe, I've some idea of marrying myself."

"You, uncle?" exclaimed Franklin, in amazement.

"And why not?" testily demanded Mr. Peterson, his bald head turning pink with excitement. "I'm not Methuselah. Why shouldn't I get married?"

"There's no reason on earth why you shouldn't, uncle," responded Joe, smothering a laugh; "only, you see, you took me rather by surprise. In that case why shouldn't we have the pleasure of accommodating both Mrs. Peterson and yourself?"

"Because, sir," said Mr. Peterson, sententiously, "because my mother-in-law that is to be takes boarders, sir, a few boarders in a genteel sort of way, and I've all but promised myself to her."

"All but? There is a chance, then, of—"

"A very slender one," unwillingly admitted Mr. Peterson.

"And if you should make no other arrangement you will let us have the house?"

"Y—yes, I suppose so."

"There can be no harm in my bringing her to look at the house this afternoon after office hours?"

"No. I suppose not."

He was making a little pencil estimate about the probable cost of furnishing the apartments he occupied with velvet and satin, according to Jeannie's not particularly economical ideas, that same afternoon, when Joseph Franklin entered, flushed and proud.

"She's down in the parlor, uncle."

"In a minute. Twelve and sixteen, and—there, then, Joe, how can a man add up his accounts with you stamping round the room like a wild buffalo? Yes, yes, I'll go down and see her, and then perhaps I shall have a little peace of my life."

He followed his nephew resignedly down to the parlor, thinking the while of far other things, and suffered himself to be led to a little sofa in the bay window, where a slender young lady was sitting, toying rather nervously with a pink parasol.

"Uncle," said Joe, proudly, "this is my promised wife, Jeannie, this is Uncle Petro Peterson."

"Jeannie Cope!" gasped the astonished bachelor.

"You'll give me a kiss, uncle, won't you?" said Jeannie, putting up her coral lips in the most bewitching way in the world. "I said it was mamma this morning; but it was really Joe and I that wanted the house."

"It was, eh?" said Mr. Peterson, with a curious commingling of sensations.

"Yes, and you know you promised to get married and board with us. He did, indeed, Joe."

"I was only joking. Married, indeed! I'm not such a fool yet. I'll stay here, but I'll not furnish the rooms this year."

So the bill was taken off the front door; and Mrs. Joseph Franklin has learned to make an omelet that suits the fastidious taste of her uncle-in-law.

"And it's just as well that fate saved me from making a fool of myself," says Mr. Peterson, exultantly.—N. Y. News.

The Popular Color.

So many women look well in brown that it will be welcome news that this color is to be a very fashionable one for winter use. It is a trying color, though, and should be shunned by the woman with gray hair. There is an old saying that in colors you should either match your eyes or your hair, if possible, so the brown-haired woman will find that certain shades of brown will suit her to perfection.—Detroit Free Press.

Raw Oysters with Chantilly Sauce.

Mix in a bowl one tablespoonful very finely chopped shallots, one even teaspoonful salt, half teaspoonful pepper, half-tablespoonful finely-chopped chives, one tablespoonful olive oil, half tablespoonful tarragon vinegar, four tablespoonsful white vinegar, and half-teaspoonful pepper sauce. Serve the oysters on the half-shell, pour a little of the sauce over each, or serve in a sauce-bowl with the oysters.—Lester Monthly.

ABBEY'S MEDICAL TALKS

are Nature's warning. Something is wrong with the digestion. Constipation is present. There are many reasons for this condition, but there is only one absolute, immediate cure—Abbey's Salt. To cure headache effectively the cause must be removed. The system must be cleaned out. The hard, discarded matter in the bowels must be disposed of. ABBEY'S EFFERVESCENT SALT does this. It does it mildly and thoroughly. It relieves the pressure of the blood upon the brain. This cures the headache. It keeps the bowels and liver-active. This gives good digestion and good blood; and prevents other headaches. The regular use of Abbey's Salt will put you on the road to good health and will keep you there.

If a bottle of Abbey's Salt prevents only one attack of headache, its cost is repaid with interest.

Sold by most druggists, or sent by mail.

25c., 50c. and $1 per bottle.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crownning Virtue.

BELTON, Mo., July 27.
For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so desperate I had given up all hope of cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

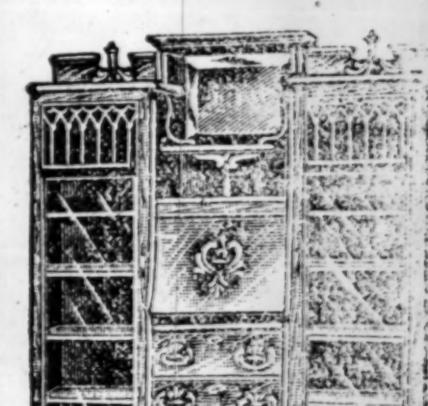

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

MCLEEE'S Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of women's weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

A LARGE BOTTLE OF WINE OF CARDUI COSTS $1.00 AT THE DRUG STORE.

TRUTH.

Not in my way nor in your way
Does the cause of Truth march on;
Yet each age has more of progress
Than the ages that have gone;
And from its inverted shadow
Wheels the earth into the dawn.

Often by the storms of passion
We are torn to the uppest-tossed;
Often do our plans miscarry,
Oft our purposes are crossed;
Oft we bow our heads in anguish,
Crying out that all is lost.

But the morrow breaks in glory
And the morning sunshine smiles,
Gleaming off into the distance
Unto golden afterwhiles,
Where the Future glints and glistens
Over Fortune's happy isles.

Back of our short-sighted wisdom
Stands the thought Omnipotent;
Back of all our puny scheming
Waits the foreordained event;
Oft what seems to us an evil
Is a blessing heaven-sent.

God is reigning, and His justice
Will prevail, whate'er betide;
There are silent, unseen forces
Unto Truth that are allied;
And the legions of the angels
Bid us from the other side.

Not in my way nor in your way
Comes the triumph of the right,
But resistlessly as morning
Steals on the reluctant night,
Till the air is filled with music
And the world is filled with light.

There are voices from the Silence,
Soft as sweep of seraph's wings;
From the secret soul of being
God's eternal mandate springs;
And the world moves on forever
To the goal of better things.—Denver News.
